

Possible changes to server names

We are constantly working to improve our server selection. Server names and addresses are subject to change. This means that devices like internet routers, that have been configured to use a specific server will be unable to connect if that server or address has been changed. To check if a server is still in use, please refer to the server list.

SpyOFF Support

<https://help.spyoff.com/KnowledgebaseArticle50116.aspx>